

As a subscriber to both XM Radio and Sirius in both my and my wife's cars, I am writing to express my support for satellite radio being able to offer weather, traffic and any other services that is offered by broadcast radio. It is not right that an organization such as the NAB should be involved in determining or influencing what I subscribe to and its content. I am vehemently opposed to any measures that discriminate against satellite radio's ability to provide whatever programming that I, as a subscriber, am willing to accept and I am not only willing to accept, but regard as extremely beneficial, the ability to obtain local information via my satellite radio streams. Thank you for your consideration.
